

Oklahoma Town Wants R. R. Agent.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 28.—

The town of Clearview in Okfuskee county, claiming to have 250 population, applied to the corporation commission today asking that the Fort Smith & Western railway company be required to establish an agent at that place. The complainants allege that they are compelled to wire to the next station for cars in which to ship cotton and seed, at considerable expense for telegraph tolls.
