The Abe Lincoln Trading Company is a private corporation, organized at Lincoln, Indian Territory, February 13, 1904, in accordance with the commercial laws of the Indian Territory and for the purpose of conducting a general merchandise and real estate business and for trading purposes generally, for the financial benefit of its members. The officers and directors of the company are all Negro men of fair business ability, nearly all of whom are educated, industrious and successful farmers, from the southern and southeastern states, and new settlers in the Creek Nation.

The capital stock of The Abe Lincoln Trading Company is $2,500 divided into 100 shares, of the par value of twenty-five dollars per share. There is some stock left which is being sold at a price within the reach of all. Since declaring the last quarterly dividend of 21 per cent, we can safely say that any one purchasing stock now will be in a position to double their money in a short time.
